

CONCERT AND GIFTS TO MARK THE FORMAL OPENING OF FINE LEVY STORES MONDAY NIGHT

Beautifully furnished and appointed well stocked with high class merchandise, Levy's Smart Shop and Sam's men's store, occupying the new building on Sartori street, will formally open to the public next Monday night.

The Elks' band of Redondo will give a special concert in front of the building during the evening.

and Mrs. Levy announce that their friends will be presented to all who attend the opening.

Offering everything in wearing apparel for women, men and children, the two Levy stores provide a splendid merchandising service for Torrance and surrounding trade territory.

The men's and women's departments have been stocked with nationally known goods, so that buyers are able to select from stocks which match the stores of much larger cities.

Levy's Smart Shop, under the management of Mrs. Levy, there are several departments, offering Hole-proof hosiery and other brands of women's hose, dresses, coats, millinery, women's furnishings and dry goods. Children's coats, dresses, sweaters and caps are also on sale.

The men's department offers Style-plus clothing, Stetson hats, Vassar underwear, caps and furnishings.

The shoe department is replete with the latest lasts in men's, women's and children's shoes. The line is featured by the famous Florsheim and Peters brands.

The two stores occupy 3900 square feet of space on which merchandise is attractively displayed.

The Levy building stands as another monument to the growth of Torrance. On the second floor are eleven apartments and offices. The need of homes in Torrance is evidenced by the fact that every one of the apartments is rented.

W. MacDougal Is Music Co. Manager

W. MacDougal, formerly with the Ballard & Cramer Music company at Santa Barbara, comes to Torrance to succeed G. Hampe as manager of the Torrance Music company. Mr. MacDougal is one of those progressive fellows who gets the business, and as the local company is connected with the Wylie B. Allen Music company, insures that the music wants of the people of this community will be well taken care of.

Mr. Hampe, the former manager, is now located at San Pedro.
